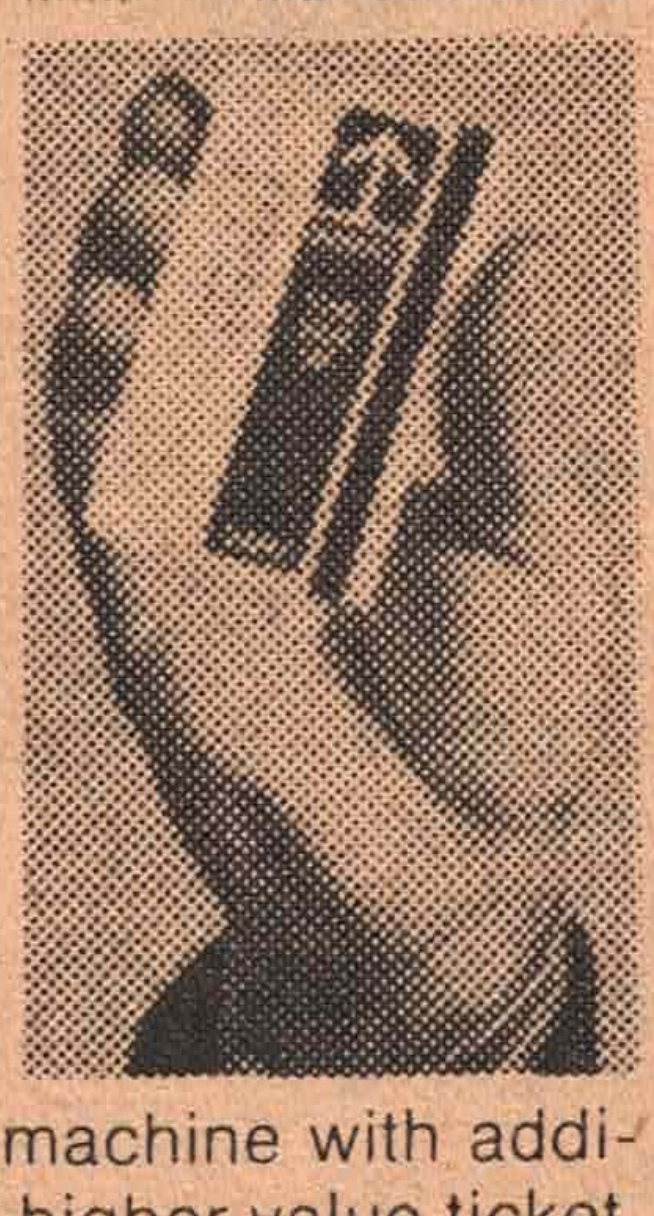
1 The BART ticket.



Each passenger must have a ticket. Information boards at each station show the fares to all other stations, but exact fare is not necessary. You can buy tickets in any amount from 30¢ to $20. Insert coins and/or bills in the ticket machine. (Ticket machines accept nickels, dimes, quarters, half-dollars, dollar bills and fives, but will not make change.) Press the Issue New Ticket button. Your BART ticket is good indefinitely and can be used for a number of rides depending on its value. A ticket with less than $4 remaining may be inserted into the ticket machine with additional money for a new, higher value ticket.

BART tickets may also be purchased at local banks in values of $10 and $20. This saves waiting to buy tickets at the station each time you ride.

2 Where do you want to go?

The map on the cover (and large maps located in the stations and trains) show the three major lines and where you must transfer when necessary. Passengers coming from any station on the Richmond line should transfer at MacArthur or 12th St. to go to Daly City or Concord. Passengers coming from any station on the Fremont line should also transfer to go to Concord.

3 To enter.

Insert your ticket in the entrance gate and take it when it pops up. Keep the ticket because you will need it to exit. The entrance gate also accepts a quarter and nickel for a minimum 30¢ ticket. Signs above the stairs and escalators show which is the proper platform for your destination. Electronic signs on the platform begin flashing a train's final destination (Fremont, Richmond, Concord, or Daly City) one minute before the train arrives.

4 When to get off.

Trains always stop at each station. The Train Operator announces the approaching stop on the train's public address system. In emergencies you can also contact him on an intercom located near the doors between each car.

5 To exit.

Insert your ticket in an exit gate. If your ticket value is (a) the exact fare, the gate will open and keep the ticket. If your ticket value is (b) more than exact fare, the gate will open and return your ticket for future rides. If your ticket value is (c) less than exact fare, the gate will not open, your ticket will return and the exit gate will flash a sign saying "Underpaid. Go To Addfare." Take your ticket, insert it in the "Addfare" machine nearby, and pay the additional fare shown in the lighted window. Your ticket will now open the exit gate.

BART and buses. If you are continuing your journey by bus in the East Bay, get a free AC Transit transfer from a white machine in the station. In San Francisco, Discount Tickets for the MUNI may be purchased for 25¢ from white machines near the exit gate. Bus route and schedule information can be found in free "BART and Buses" folders available in the stations, or on large wall maps near station exits, or by calling BART's Phone Information Center.

Phone Information Center. Call the toll-free number in your area for help with travel questions about BART or connecting bus service:

Hours of Service. BART operates Monday through Friday, from 6 am. to 8 pm. Trains run approximately every 12 minutes.

Station Agents. Your station agent can help you with ticket problems, use of special elevators, emergencies, lost or found items and admittance to restrooms. Station agents are on duty in booths near the station entrance or can be called on the white courtesy telephones located throughout the stations.

Special Fares. Senior citizens 65 and over and children 12 and under can ride for one-fourth the fare. Special red tickets must be

What to do about... NATURAL DISASTERS

WARNING FOR NATURAL DISASTERS

Warning of a natural disaster threat to your community will be given by local government. The different methods which could be used include radio, TV, sound truck, and house-to-house alert. Stay tuned to radio or TV for instructions.

REMAIN CALM. Think through the consequences of any action you take and try to reassure others.

IF NEEDED, GET FOOD, CLOTHING, MEDICAL CARE, OR SHELTER at centers established by relief agencies. Location of these centers will be broadcast over local radio or TV stations.

USE EXTREME CAUTION IF YOU MUST DRIVE OR WALK WITHIN THE DISASTER AREA. People in the area who are overly excited, or injured, may not act normally when driving or walking and therefore create a hazard to themselves and others.

WRITE, TELEGRAPH OR TELEPHONE your close relatives AFTER the emergency is over, to let them know where and how you are. Otherwise, local government may waste time trying to find you. DO NOT TIE UP TELEPHONE LINES STILL NEEDED FOR EMERGENCY OPERATIONS!

Take SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS against these hazards which could cause more injuries or deaths!

FIRE AND EXPLOSION

CALL YOUR FIRE DEPARTMENT

- Use flashlights, not lanterns or torches, when entering houses and other buildings which may contain flammable liquids or gas from broken lines.
- If you smell gas: Open all windows and doors, turn off the main gas valve and main power switch, leave the house immediately and notify the gas company, police or fire department. Do not re-enter the building until you are told it is safe.
- Clean up flammable liquids which have been spilled.
- Do not smoke, use matches or open flame appliances where there is danger of fire or explosion.

DAMAGED BUILDINGS

- Use extreme caution in entering or working in houses or other buildings that may have been damaged or weakened, as they may collapse without warning.

POISONS AND DRUGS

- Immediately clean up spilled medicines, drugs, and other potentially harmful materials.

ELECTRICAL

- Do not touch any electrical applicance, fixture, outlet or switch while you are wet or standing in water.
- Do not touch fallen or damaged electrical wires or objects touching these wires.
- Do not touch any wet electrical appliance which is plugged in until you have turned off the main power switch. Unplug it and allow to dry thoroughly before using.
- If fuses blow or circuit breakers open after electrical power is restored, turn off main power switch until the trouble can be located and repaired.
- Turn off main power switch if there is damage to the building wiring.

CONTAMINATION

- Do not use food or water that may have been contaminated by:
  - Flood water
  - Sewage
  - Lack of refrigeration
  - Shattered glass
- Unopened canned food would be safe to use, and emergency water can be obtained from water heaters, toilet tanks, melted ice cubes and canned fruit juice.
- If in doubt, however, wait for specific instructions from your local government concerning the use of food and water.
- If power is off, plan meals using up food from freezer or refrigerator before they can spoil. Use charcoal broilers for cooking, only in well ventilated areas.
- Do not flush toilets if sewer lines are broken.

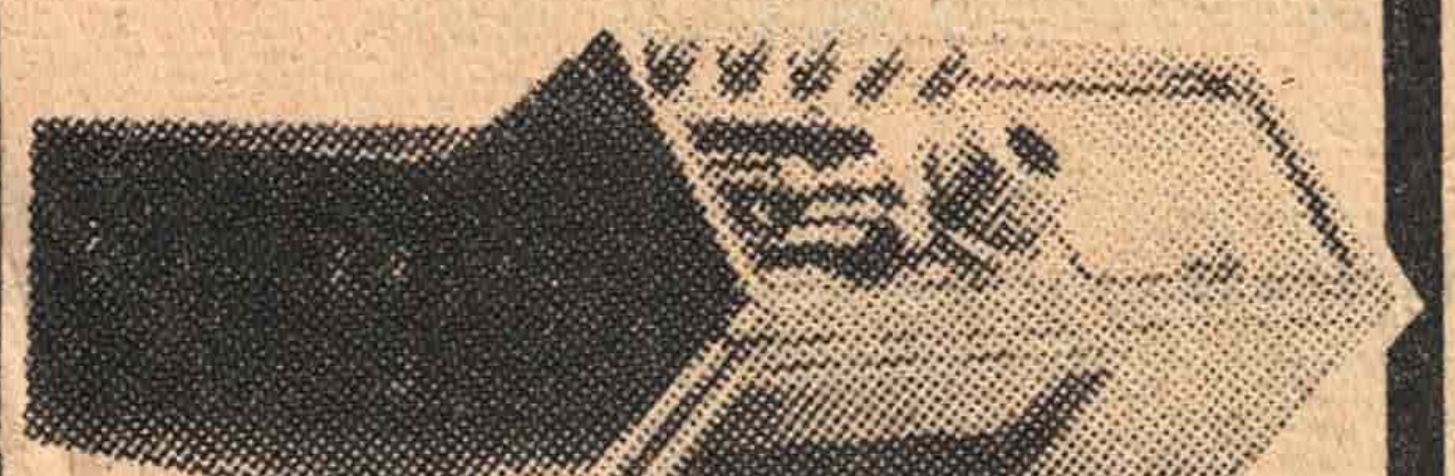
PIONEER



From compacts for compacts to cassette players with stereo FM and Dolby*. We make 8-track. We make 4-channel. And, of course, Pioneer car stereos are designed for in-dash, under-dash or even in an ashtray.

As you can see, Pioneer gives you a choice.

* Dolby is a trademark of Dolby Laboratories, Inc.

CALIFORNIA PACIFIC DIRECTORY's goal is to provide you, the consumer with a free, complete, up to date local business directory. A local directory that will provide, at your fingertips, the information you need to insure the finest products and the fastest services in your community. A local directory that allows the local businessman competition with businesses in his own area.

THE LOCAL DIRECTORY is provided free of charge through the courtesy of the advertisers in the classified section and distributed to all homes, apartments, mobile homes and businesses in this area. For an additional copy, free of charge, please call or write: California Pacific Directory.

CALIFORNIA PACIFIC DIRECTORY is in our fourth year of publishing local directories and now publish eight directories serving over 19 communities. Please do not hesitate to call or send us a note to let us have your impression of our publication. It is our endevor to improve with every issue to make YOUR LOCAL DIRECTORY even more valuable to you.

Every possible effort has been made to insure accuracy of directory content. As publishers of this directory we cannot and do not guarantee the correctness of all available information, nor the complete absence of errors or ommissions or unintentional inclusions.
